Making Mystics Out of Cheeses The Life and Works of Flannery O'Connor

"What I am asking for is really very ridiculous. Oh Lord, I am saying, at present I am a cheese, make me a mystic immediately. But then God can do that—make mystics out of cheeses."

—Flannery O'Connor, A Prayer Journal

MARCH 12 - APRIL 9, 6:30-8 PM, MILNER CHAPEL

During five Wednesday nights in Lent, Dr. Richard Baker will lead a discussion on O'Connor's life, her writing, and the larger themes of each: how grace changes us, why it is painful, how we resist it, and how God's grace overcomes that resistance.

HYMN #470

O Day of Radiant Gladness considers the rich texture of meanings within which Christians enter the practice of Sabbath. The text begins by suggesting images and emotions recognized as flowing from Sabbath: radiance, gladness, joy, light, release from cares and the lifting of sadness. The second stanza presents three Biblical events strongly related to Sabbath: creation, resurrection and Pentecost. The text ends as it began – reminding us of the help and health of God's prescribed practice. Sabbath renews and refreshes us from grace more grace receiving. But more, it sustains us on our Christian pilgrimage, a journey into eternal worship and everlasting Sabbath.

HYMN #462

Christ, Whose Glory Fills the Skies first appeared in 1740 in Hymns and Sacred Poems. This Epiphany hymn, written by Charles Wesley, is filled with images of light portraying Christ as the Messiah coming into a world of darkness. This radiant presence transforms us as it "pierces the gloom of sin" and cheers our eyes, warms our hearts. This compact three-verse hymn is tightly written in contrast to some of Wesley's hymns. For example, O For a Thousand Tongues originally spanned 18 stanzas. Wesley, the great English revivalist along with his brother John, wrote over 6500 hymns of which 11 appear in our hymnal.

THE GLORIA PATRI

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son,
and to the Holy Ghost;
As it was in the beginning, is now and ever shall be, world without end. Amen, Amen.

MISSION AND BENEVOLENCE

An Open Thank you from SAWs

Last year, SAWs’ impact on the community of people with disabilities grew significantly. In 2012, we built 193 wheel chair ramps statewide. In 2013, we built 220; an increase of more than 14%. Volunteers and leaders from Second Church, together with churches, groups and organizations around the State, pulled together to free 220 people from the prisons of their own homes. Thank you to each and every one of the dedicated volunteers whose efforts made this possible.

Equally important is the financial support that the entire congregation of Second provided. We received donations large and small, support from Presbyterian Women, from Mission Committee and many individual members of Second totaling $17,000 last year. That provided materials to free approximately 220 people with disabilities or the effects of aging, allowing them to rejoin their communities and live more normal lives.

THANK YOU, members of Second, from all of us at Servants At Work, Inc. (SAWs)
